

College is Expensive: Get Someone Else to Pay for It.

Hoboken, NJ—May 2, 2007

Everyone knows that college is expensive, but did you know resources exist that help slash college debt? Do you or your loved ones qualify for programs that lessen or eliminate student loans? eLearners.com has announced the launch of the Debt-Free College Guide, a one-stop shop designed to help graduates, as well as currently enrolled and prospective students, find opportunities to reduce or remove college debt. The site is located at <http://debtfree.elearners.com/>.

The eLearners.com Debt-Free College Guide provides a complete database, with more than 500 financing options, including grants, scholarships, tax incentives and the most comprehensive list of loan forgiveness programs on the Internet.

Want to know how to get rid of your loans?

The Debt-Free College Guide is the most comprehensive list of loan forgiveness programs accessible to the public. Loan forgiveness programs are generally designed to encourage students to pursue educational goals that will lead to employment in specific occupations, including, but not limited to, working for volunteer organizations, the government, teaching or practicing medicine. In exchange for working in these fields, part or all of student loan debt may be forgiven. Are you eligible? See at <http://debtfree.elearners.com/>.

"It is amazing the number of programs that exist that the general public is not aware of," said Andrew Gansler, CEO of eLearners.com. "The State of Maryland has loan forgiveness programs to attract qualified workers for public service. The State of Arizona has loan forgiveness programs for lawyers and public defenders, and the federal government has a plethora of programs for teachers, technologists and health care professionals. Any working professional contemplating a career move or a career shift should look into these programs as a way to go back to school with increased financial freedom."

The guide is part of eLearners.com's recently announced Student Loans and Financial Aid Center, which helps prospective and current students identify and understand financing options for school. The Center provides detailed information about financial aid, loans, loan consolidation and employer tuition assistance programs. The Center also offers a loan buying guide, in collaboration with The Greentree Gazette, where visitors can compare more than 300 student loans by loan vendor, type, up-front fees and interest rates. Consumers can find the Debt-Free College Guide and the Student Loans and Financial Aid Center at <http://financialaid.elearners.com>.

About EducationDynamics

EducationDynamics is the leading interactive marketing and information services company focused on helping higher education institutions meet their recruitment, enrollment and retention objectives. Through some of the most visible education websites, including GradSchools.com, StudyAbroad.com, eLearners.com and EarnMydegree.com, as well its Internet marketing support team, EducationDynamics Prospecting Services is one of the largest providers of qualified inquiries in higher education. Through Enrollment and Retention Services, EducationDynamics offers a significant portfolio of proven online programs with a track record of delivering improved enrollment yield and retention. For more information, visit www.educationdynamics.com.

Media Inquiries:

Steven Shapiro
Phone: 201-377-3039
Email: sshapiro@csg-pr.com